20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Division received 1746 proposals in FY18 of which 478 were funded. The outside expert advice, discussion, reports, and recommendations on the merit and potential of proposals are the primary input the Division uses to make funding recommendations. The committee's advice is weighed carefully by the program staff in making decisions on which proposals should be recommended for funding.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Over 685 panelists were selected in FY18 for their technical expertise in scientific, mathematical and engineering fields. In addition, members are selected to represent diverse populations. We include all parts of the US and its territories; members represent all kinds of institutions, including 2-year colleges, liberal arts colleges, comprehensive universities, doctoral and research universities, industry, and scientific laboratories; and we make particular efforts to include members who are from underrepresented groups, including women, minorities, and people with disabilities. Members provide evaluation of proposals after discussion with other members with diverse points of view.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Division receives new proposals at announced deadlines throughout the year. Meetings are held to review new proposals shortly after proposal deadlines. In FY18, 125 panels were convened. Panelists meet as a group then break into smaller subgroups before the review process commences.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

Panel review can provide judgments about the merits of a group of proposals or about a complex multidisciplinary proposal that cannot be obtained in any other way. Often members have complementary expertise, and no one member has the expertise alone to evaluate a proposal or a group of proposals.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

To review proposals that included information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals.

21. Remarks

Narrative Description

The NSF mission as set out in the NSF Act of 1950 authorizes and directs the Agency to initiate and support: basic scientific research and research fundamental to the engineering process; and science and engineering education programs at all levels and in all fields of science and engineering. The involvement of knowledgeable peers from outside the Foundation in the review of proposals is the keystone of NSF's proposal review system. Their judgments of the extent to which proposals address the merit review criteria are vital for informing NSF staff and influencing funding recommendations.
